The Lazy Lemur-Hutson

By: Kema
All Hutson ever wanted to do was watch TV, play video games, and eat junk food. His three friends begged him to play outside. Hutson said, “It is boring.” Harley, Jackson, and Emily said, “It is so much fun outside, please come out.” Mom Agatha said, “You need to stop and play outside.” She took away the TV and video games.
Hutson sits outside bored and does not know what do to.
His friends say, “Please come play with us!” “Why would you want to play with me when I would not before?” said Hutson. His friends said, “The way to make friends is to play with them.” Outside Lemur and all his friends first walked to the park. They played tag and got tired.
Jackson hung upside down from his tail when he won. Surprisingly, Hutson won the next challenge which was who could do the most cartwheels across the field.

After 23 cartwheels he and his friends laid on the grass and watched the clouds change shapes. Haley was a good sport and said, “Next time I will be the winner of all the competitions!”

They rested on the swing and competed on who could go the slowest, but highest. Emily won this competition. Next, they ran to the jungle gym and had a competition of who could go the fastest around and through all the bars.
Hutson gets an invitation to go to a party and he goes and enjoys it a lot. He said, “I don’t know why I was playing video games all this time when I could have been doing this and having a fun time outside with my friends.”

The end.
