The members of Fargo Moorhead Visual Artists welcome you to our 17th annual Studio Crawl!

This is our favorite event of the year—an opportunity to clean up our working spaces, open our doors, see old friends and make new ones, and talk about our favorite topic: making art.

As noted on page 5, we'll miss your hugs in this pandemic year but we're putting policies in place to minimize the risk of virus transmission to our artists and our guests. Masks will be required. Some of the studios are moving outdoors so there can be more social distancing. The studios that usually serve food and beverages, won’t.

Some of the studios are still participating but have chosen to take the “online only” route. Look for the “online only” symbol in this brochure to see which studios are participating virtually, and go online to fmva.org to find an interactive map that links to all the Studio Crawl artists.

We want you to keep this brochure for future reference. You never know when you might need a gift for someone special or unique art in your own home—and the artists listed here will be happy to help you find the perfect piece.

But please leave one part of this brochure behind at the last studio you visit—the page 23 Feedback form. Give us your feedback, and you’ll be entered to win a gift of art.

Once again, “Thank You” for supporting our community’s arts and artists. Enjoy your Studio Crawl—and tell your friends!

DENNIS KRULL  FMVA Board President
WE WILL MISS YOUR HUGS!

The Studio Crawl has always been a very social event, and we think—with your help—we can keep it social AND safe during the COVID-19 pandemic. We require all visitors to wear masks, maintain social distances, and use hand sanitizers and common sense.

A few of our participating studios will not be open to visitors, but you are invited to visit them online—those locations are indicated in this brochure by this symbol.

Visit fmva.org for an online version of this brochure and map, and you can click on each of the artists images to tour the virtual Studio Crawl.

ONLINE ONLY

All studios are open to the public free of charge

Welcome! This year at the Studio Crawl you will see a sneak preview of works that will be shown in separate solo exhibitions at both the Bismarck Heritage Center this winter and at the ND Museum of Art in the spring. Work available at the Studio Crawl ranges from miniature to wall-work to large-scale vessels at all price points. As always, our Studio Crawl event features a once a year seconds sale, refreshments, and wheel-throwing demonstrations by request! We look forward to visiting and catching up with old friends and making new ones.

My work has been inspired by environments in which I have lived and visited, as well as being influenced by Herman Melville and MOBY-DICK. As a hypnotherapist, I have developed a Creativity Enhancement Workshop, assisting participants to open up to their inherent creativity. I have served as a visiting artist throughout the upper Midwest, Ecuador, Mexico, and England.

It is great to be part of the Studio Crawl again after a three-year absence. Stop by the studio to see recent work depicting human impact on the environment. My practice encompasses landscapes in the broadest sense: large and small, natural and man-made, sprawling and intimate, and real and abstract.

I use photography to document the interplay between the natural and the human-altered, to bear witness to moments of landscape transformation, and to dissect popular notions of nature.

This year’s Studio Crawl will be quite different for both you and me. I hope you will visit my studio but you must do so virtually by going to fmva.org/barrykutzer. A bright spot for me this summer was that Prairie Public Broadcasting came to make a short film for the Prairie Mosaic series. It is well done and will give you some insight into who I am, what I do and how I do it.

Celebrating the collections of local scenery and capturing art of places traveled are some of my specialties. I am known for my architectural art and chalk art. My studio space is used to showcase my paintings and murals along with other local artists’ work. I am working on a new collection of paintings and photographs of small towns surrounding the Fargo/Moorhead area called Little Towns of ND and MN, which will be showcased for the holiday season. Commission work is what I love to do too. I love it when I can create what clients love. It is meaningful to them and brings them joy.

Shelli Fenske Earth, Chrome, & Wire

For the past 35 years, I have taught visual arts at the high school level. My business, Earth, Chrome, & Wire, was established in 2005 and has continued to grow as I continue to sell my works at various galleries and fine-art stores in the region. My designs are inspired by the fossils or semi-precious stones I incorporate. My many visits as a child to the western part of North Dakota were the inspiration for the warm colors and western flair of my pieces. The color of this piece relates to the color and feel of wearing a pair of jeans. Casual yet classic.

The Studio Crawl is supported in part by a grant from the North Dakota Council on the Arts, which receives funding from the state legislature and the National Endowment for the Arts. The Studio Crawl is also funded in part by the cities of Fargo, Moorhead and West Fargo through a grant from The Arts Partnership.
Sarah Dotzenrod had always been an artist at heart, but gives Fargo Moorhead Visual Artists credit for helping to find her voice in advocating for area artists and the importance of art in our communities.

Sarah joined Fargo Moorhead Visual Artists in 2009, during her first year of teaching at Liberty Middle School in West Fargo. She has served as board president and has been very active in the organization’s programming and education events and activities.

Sarah’s art is primarily two-dimensional, using drawing, painting, and digital art/photography as mediums of choice. She describes her art making as “therapeutic” by “making time to fully process, appreciate, and document the inner beauty and struggle of everyday people, places, and experiences.” Sarah is currently developing a new body of work in preparation for graduate school, where she hopes to further her skills in art making, education, and community leadership.

Sarah is a graduate of Wyndmere N.D. High School and Minnesota State University Moorhead, where she graduated with degrees in art and art education. Sarah is starting her twelfth year of teaching art.

Thank you, Sarah, for your commitment to arts and to the Fargo-Moorhead Visual Artists! We proudly choose you as our Member of the Year!
