Secret birds

The secret birds fly into the woods and they find a flower. Secret birds cannot be seen. Their job is to help flowers grow. When a storm is coming, they put a secret bubble over all of the flowers to protect them. If a flower is scared, the secret birds will hug them. Once the storm passes, they make sure the flowers get sunlight. Secret birds are helpers!