The lost crown

Stella Rossland
Once upon a time

There lived two dogs.

One was black and one was brown. Their names were Bella and Rose.
They lived in a castle.

They both had their own bed rooms. They each had their own crowns because they were princesses.
One day Bella woke up and she could not find her crown. She was sad and blamed Rose for taking it. This made Rose upset because...
She did not take it.

Rose told Bella that she would help her look for her crown. They looked all over Bella's room and found it.
I want green, but I don't know which color I want.

in her treat box. It had fallen off when she took a treat! Bella felt bad for blaming Rose and said sorry.

then gave her a big treat!