7:30PM Conversations in the Digital Age with Jim Zirin - How Do We Deal with the Syrian Refugee Crisis?

Guest: David Miliband, President, International Rescue Committee. The bloody civil war in Syria has spawned a refugee crisis of dimensions unknown since World War II. Nearly 5.5 million people have fled the conflict with only around 10,000 re-settled in the United States - less than 0.2 per cent of the total Syrian refugee population. Yet, during the campaign, President-elect Trump said he would close the door to Syrian immigration. International Rescue Committee President David Miliband tells Jim Zirin that the U.S. must open its doors to carefully vetted Syrian refugees, and do its part to avert a humanitarian disaster. 7:00PM Mammoth Cave: A Place Called Home

In the heart of South Central Kentucky, Mammoth Cave National Park is a draw for people from around the world. This area holds the longest known cave system in the world and a rich history of family and community that reaches back generations. The people living in the Mammoth Cave area had a unique bond with those around them and to the land that would one day become a national park. Mammoth Cave: A Place Called Home is a tale of communities lost and a National Park gained as a legacy to those who knew and loved the cave and for those who would come after.

7:30PM Climate of the Hominins

This film tells the story of a new research project in Kenya and Ethiopia that aims to find answers to the question: What role did the climate play in human evolution? The film follows geologists and anthropologists as they drill into ancient lake bed sediments at remote locations in the African Rift Valley, where the famed hominin fossils Lucy and Turkana Boy were discovered. At the drill sites scientists collect sediments and send samples to laboratories around the world. The samples reveal, for the first time, a precise record of climate change over the past 3.4 million years. New questions arise as to how those changes may have affected human evolution. These new findings, just emerging, may give us valuable insights into dealing with the global climate changes that are happening today.

7:30PM California's Green - Santa Barbara Artists

Some people talk about the environment. Others actually do something proactive about it. Like the group of 26 Santa Barbara artists who founded the Outdoor Airing Club more than 20 years ago. The O.A.K. Group, as it is known, is made up of artists who paint magnificent, unspoiled open spaces threatened by development. They then sell these art pieces at a special auction with 50 percent of the profits going to organizations in Santa Barbara County working to preserve our precious and unfortunately disappearing open, natural, landscape. Huell spends a day with some O.A.K. Group members as they painted in three different spectacular locales, and then attends the auction several months later. The resulting episode of California's Green is not only beautiful, bit inspirational as it shows how important a small but dedicated group of

There's no place on Earth like it. Cleopatra attributed her beauty to its secrets. King Herod built one of the world's first health spas on its shores. And as the biblical story goes, "rocks and fire falling from the sky" buried Sodom and Gomorrah and the sea became "the sea of salt" -- The Dead Sea. Now this wonder of the world is dying. Since 1976, its level has declined by more than sixty-five feet. Its coastline is pockmarked with thousands of sinkholes. Can the Dead Sea be saved? After more than a decade of research and debate, scientists, engineers and political leaders have come up with a daring plan, one that could not only save the sea but help bring stability to a region rife with conflict. NOVA follows this unprecedented endeavor - perhaps the world's largest water chemistry experiment ever - as scientists and engineers race to save the Dead Sea and help bring water to one of the driest regions on Earth. 7:00PM The Lawrence Welk Show - Great Entertainers (1981)

This show salutes show business greats like George M. Cohan with a medley of his songs including "Yankee Doodle Dandy" and "You're a Grand Old Flag". The Mills Brothers' classic tune "Glow Worm" is sung by Gail, Ron, & Michael, and our saxophone section recalls Duke Ellington's "Sophisticated Lady". Judy Garland is remembered with "You Made Me Love You" and Eddie Arnold is saluted by Ava Barber with "Make The World Go Away".

8:00PM The Songwriters - Paul Overstreet

Host Ken Paulson interviews songwriter-artist Paul Overstreet, who among other stories reveals how The Oak Ridge Boys helped him get a life-changing song recorded by George Jones. Overstreet is the writer of "Forever and Ever, Amen" by Randy Travis and his own "Seein' My Father In Me."

8:30PM Sun Studio Sessions - Blue Mother Tupelo

Rising up from the bluffs of Memphis to the mountains of east Tennessee, through the Delta lowlands and muddy banks of Mississippi - Blue Mother Tupelo oozes a kind of southern soul and roots rock that defies boundary or definition. In this episode, the duo performs several fan favorites including "Livin' the Good Life" and "Mississippi Mud."

9:00PM Reel South - Divided City

Produced and Directed by: Katie Mitchell & Andrea B. Scott. Monuments to the Confederacy permeate the American South. Emotions run high and tensions mount when, in 2015, the New Orleans city council convenes a public debate over the fate of its Confederate statues. As the council prepares to vote, Divided City reveals deep divisions about the history and symbolism of the monuments, and their place in the public space and in the South.

9:30PM Reel South - Jonah Stands Up

Film by: Hannah Engelson. Jonah Bascle was an unconventional mayoral candidate, even by New Orleans standards: artist, comedian, disability-rights activist. Born with muscular dystrophy, Jonah raced against mortality throughout his twenties. Combining humor, political action, and a sense of urgency, Jonah Stands Up challenges stereotypes associated with differently-abled individuals in New Orleans.
