Once upon a time, Ninja Puppy and the Ninja master, and their family, were hiking in the forest when they came upon a stink that was worse than... rotten berries, worse than dead skunks, and even worse than bison drinking out of the swamp. Then, they heard some rustling in the leaves. Right before they went to check it out, the rustling stopped and they found a BIG, HUGE footprint! They all started freaking out and Ninja Puppy started whining.
They started trying to get back out of the woods but they were lost. They were surrounded by berries and all of the sudden, the berries started flying at them.
They followed a trail of large footprints and they saw a Big Furry Creature throwing berries! Ninja Puppy felt very scared so he started to walk away but then he turned around and jumped right on the big furry creature. That's when he realized that the big furry creature was none other than . . . . BIGFOOT!
Now, Ninja Puppy was being brave and started throwing blueberries at Bigfoot. There was a lot of chaos and maelstrom, and an abundance of blues. There was a lot of fliibber flabber, and jibber jabber and a whole lot of blah, blah, blah... it was a huge predicament.
Ninja Puppy and Bigfoot each decided to climb up a tree to tackle each other, and when they jumped off, they smacked right into each other. Then, it was on! They had one epic fight and one epic mess. They went in with one of them black and red, and the other one brown, and came out with one of them purple and the other one blue. It was such a mess that there were blueberries splattered all over the pages of this book! Then, all of the sudden their 'hearts' got really big and they decided to be friends.
They decided that if there is no more violence, then everyone will be happy. So, Bigfoot, Ninja Puppy, and Ninja Puppy's family all loved each other very much and they lived happily ever after.
