Mia and the Bright Butterfly
This book is dedicated to:
My best friend and aunt Sandra (Titana)
When Mia was 4 years old, her best friend was her aunt Tatiana.
Mia would spend every day during the week with her aunt Tatiana. Dolls, dress up, and tea parties were some of the things they would play.
One day, Tatiana got sick and had to be taken to the hospital. Mia was very sad.
The next day, Mia went to visit her aunt at the hospital. Tatiana told Mia that anytime she saw a butterfly, to think of her because she loved butterflies and it meant that she was watching over her.
Three days later, Mia’s mom sat her down to give her the bad news that her aunt Tatiana had passed away.
Mia was sad that she was never going to see her best friend again.
One day, Mia went outside to the garden and saw a beautiful, bright colored butterfly.
Mia started crying because she remembered her aunt Tatiana. Mia remembered her aunt had told her that anytime she saw a butterfly, that it was her visiting her.
Now, every time Mia sees a butterfly she smiles and greets the butterfly with, "Hi Tatiana!"
