The Chicks That Escaped to See a Movie
These are my chicks in the story. Their names are Popcorn, Penguin, Raptor, Cinnamon, and Fluffy. The chicks wanted to see the Paw Patrol movie at the Eindorme 12. The chicks escaped from their box and out of the garage. When we opened the door the chicks hopped out! The chicks rode the school bus with a class going on a field trip to see the movie. The chicks sat in the back row. The screen was too small! They sat in the front row. The screen was too BIG!
The chicks sat in the middle row and the screen was just right. They loved the movie! The chicks ate so much popcorn that they were full.
They didn't even eat dinner. I checked my chicks that night and I was happy to see them. I don't know why they are so full.
and sleepy... and so so fluffy!!
I asked my mom to take a picture of me and my pet chicks that are in my story. I love them.