By Shmuel
George and Noah are best friends. They love to play basketball. They wanted to join the Eagles basketball team. The team was the best in their town.
George and Noam tried out for the team and made it. They practice everyday. Then one day their game was canceled.
Someone stole all of the basketballs in the city. No-one knew who had taken all of the basketballs.
A bad guy took all the basketballs. He put them in his airplane and wanted to drop them on all the people in the town.
The police tried to catch the bad guy but could not. George and Noam planted a basketball to trap the bad guy.
The basketball was in their secret closet.
The bad guy sniffed it out.
George and Noam waited in the bushes and followed the bad guy to his airplane.
All the basketballs in the town were in the airplane. When the bad guy left the airplane.
George and Noam snuck in the airplane and saved the people of the town and took all the basketball back to the gym.
All the kids were so excited they could play basketball once again.
