“Awe-inspiring and shiver-worthy!”
— DESERET NEWS
Family Preparedness at All Stages of Life

What’s in your emergency kit? Growing up in earthquake country taught me to always have a bag packed with tennis shoes, a flashlight, some cash, bottled water and snacks. Truth be told, I occasionally raid the cash and snacks. And are you prepared financially? This month, I am happy to share the launch of a new special called Money Masters premiering on Friday, May 20, at 8:30 p.m.

We have been hosting seminars with our “Money Masters”, and thought their information was so valuable that we wanted to share it with a larger audience. These local subject matter experts will cover financial fundamentals around wealth management investments, preparing a will or trust and other aspects of family preparedness. Every stage of life has its own set of high stakes. I hope this program will give you the tools to be better informed and make life planning less overwhelming. We are grateful to this wonderful group of volunteers for their commitment to educating the community and sharing their industry insights on these important topics. This program will also have a series of digital segments that will be posted on our website and available for streaming anytime with our PBS Video App.

As we are committed to creating more quality local content, we are also committed to building a stronger foundation for technology and infrastructure."

As we are committed to creating more quality local content, we are also committed to building a stronger foundation for technology and infrastructure. An upgrade to our master control system is underway – a change that will give our broadcast signal more capacity and broader reach. This is part of our strategy to invest in technology and provide the community more reliable service.

An immediately noticeable benefit will be the ability to bring the Vegas PBS WORLD Channel to our over-the-air service on 10.4. WORLD offers international news, documentaries and fact-based content covering public affairs, culture and science. This is a wonderful addition to our program offerings. I have wanted to have WORLD included in our over-the-air service since starting at Vegas PBS, and I am very pleased to bring that goal to fruition. Expanding the WORLD reach provided an opportunity to review our manpower and resource allocations and as of May 31 we will sunset our two reprise channels Rewind and Jackpot!

Among our remarkable new programs and specials this month, we also celebrate Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) Heritage Month. Currently available to our viewers on Cox Cable 114, WORLD will present more than 50 films to celebrate AAPI Heritage in May, including America Reframed: Chinatown Rising and Local, USA: A Tale of Three Chinatowns. Our AAPI Heritage programming on 10.1 includes American Masters: Tyrus Wong and American Masters: Waterman Duke: Ambassador of Aloha. Turn to page 15 to see more titles.

Spring is certainly putting a new skip on our step. It gives me great joy to share the energy and excitement at the station with you, our loyal members and supporters. Thank you for your continued commitment to our mission and allowing us to share the stories of our local community with the world.

All the best,
Mary Mazur
