

OZARKS PUBLIC BROADCASTING IS HIRING!

KSMU Radio (local NPR affiliate) and Ozarks Public Television (local PBS affiliate)

KSMU RADIO NEWS INTERNS

Openings for Summer and Fall Semesters 2022

KSMU Radio has openings for paid internships for journalism students for the Summer and Fall Semesters 2022. News interns get a wealth of experience, including on-air reporting experience, attending press conferences and writing their own stories. News interns are trained on broadcast-industry recording gear and editing software, and they are supervised and coached by KSMU's News Director, Jennifer Moore. The internship includes a deep-dive into real-world journalism ethics necessary to be a competitive, trusted journalist.

Digital media students, especially those in web production, get experience posting content to the station's website and social media platforms.

Commitment and Compensation:

- Minimum of 135 hours per semester
- Flexible scheduling
- $12 per hour

HOW TO APPLY:

Email resume and two letters of recommendation to KSMU News Director & Content Coordinator Jennifer Moore: jennifer@ksmu.org. Please put in the email subject line: NEWS INTERNSHIP.