NINJA PUPPY IN CHINA
NINJA PUPPY IN CHINA

Author: Gunner D
Illustrator: Gunner D
One day, Ninja Puppy and his family, who had just added a cute little Ninja baby, flew to China to enjoy a historical tour. They also wanted to eat ice cream since it was invented in China. Just before their tour, a Samurai jumped out of nowhere! Before being abolished in 1868, Samurai had... the power to attack strangers whenever they wanted. So, they ran away. On the tour, they saw many dazzling places and delightful things. They visited the Great Wall of China and the Forbidden City. They also saw information about an ice cream eating contest and decided to join. When the contest was starting, Samurai reappeared seeming aggressive. The contestants were jiggling and wiggling with fright!! Samurai looked at Ninja Puppy and they began a battle so intense, it almost started the war of 1581 between Samurai and Ninjas again. The Ninjas got dollops of ice cream and launched them at him. The other contestants joined the attack. Next thing you know, there were giant globs of ice cream, sprinkles, marshmallows, and other toppings splattering everywhere! Scoops of ice cream were even covering the words on this page!, Ninja Baby was stuffing his face with ice cream. The Calamity made Ninja Puppy feel like a Ninja Puppy in a China Shop! When the maze of dust settled, Ninja Puppy was seen using a very tall ice cream cone as a sword to jab Samurai in the belly between licks. Then, Ninja Puppy had an epiphany... maybe Samurai was just looking for friends? Then he said, "Don't reject people, let them in, let them..."
have fun, be kind.” So, the contest began and all who wanted to enter, did. The crowd chanted “Eat, Eat, Eat!” The contestants gorged themselves until they were so bloated, they looked like beach balls with appendages! Somehow, they felt car sick when they weren't even in a car. Ninja Puppy Won!!! Later, the Ninja Puppy family and Samurai attended a Japanese Monster movie together because you should always be kind and let others join you when they are alone.
This Book is Dedicated to

My Cousins: Allie, Sarah, Charlotte, Connor, Anemarie, and Maryn