

LEMON

written and illustrated
by Sadie Deatherage

hi I am
Lemon.

Once there was a llama named Lemon
who wished she was a unicorn.
Every night she wished on stars
to be a unicorn. She would say,
"I wish I were a unicorn,
please grant my wish!"

One morning Lemon went to the pond for a drink. She saw her reflection and she had a horn! She ran into the barn to get a hat. Lemon walked under a tree and it fell off. Everyone saw her horn and they all asked for a wish.

Harry asked for all the green grass could eat. He ate all day. He ate all <sup>the</sup> night.
the next morning he had a terrible belly ache!

Harriet wished for the longest neck so she could see the clouds. It was so long she couldn't hear her friends down below.

Lemon saw that these wishes were causing trouble! she felt sorry for her friends so that night she made another wish. "I wish I were never a unicorn, please grant my wish!" The next morning everything was normal again! Lemon realizes that getting your wish isn't always best.
