

December 28, 2020

New Weekly Series from MontanaPBS The Rundown: Capitol Report

MontanaPBS will broadcast and live stream a new weekly series, The Rundown: Capitol Report, beginning Sunday, January 3 at 5pm.

Jackie Coffin brings viewers an in-depth look at Montana's 67th Legislative Session with weekly updates, analysis and interviews. From COVID-19 to public lands, education to energy development, Coffin will track issues of importance to Montanans as they move through the legislature and towards the new governor's desk.

This series of The Rundown will rely on remote footage and media partnerships to maintain best practices in preventing the spread of COVID-19. The series will continue each Sunday through the end of the Legislative Session.

"I'm looking forward to providing timely updates on this Legislative Session for all Montanans from our capitol in Helena," said host Jackie Coffin. "In the midst of so much political change, I believe that these weekly reports from the Legislature will be of immense value to our viewers and help them connect directly with local government."

Coffin hosts The Rundown to provide in-depth coverage on issues that matter to Montanans, including insight into the COVID-19 vaccine research happening in the state, how and when residents were able to vote during the recent 2020 election, Montana's marijuana market, and Medicaid expansion.

Viewers can watch The Rundown: Capitol Report on-air, online at montanapbs.org/live or on Facebook live by following MontanaPBS. To view a full list of viewing options, visit montanapbs.org/watch.

To view more information, including upcoming and previous episodes of The Rundown: Capitol Report, visit montanapbs.org/rundown.

###

CONTACTS

Jackie Coffin, News & Public Affairs Producer | jackie@montanapbs.org

Laura Dick, Digital Content & Marketing Manager | laura@montanapbs.org