

January 28, 2021

Governor Gianforte's 2021 State of the State Address Available on MontanaPBS January 28

MontanaPBS will broadcast and live stream the 2021 State of the State Governor's Address on Thursday, January 28, 2021 at 7PM MT. This will be the first State of the State address from Governor Greg Gianforte, presented to a joint session of the Montana Legislature. The Democratic Party Response will directly follow the Governor's Address.

The live coverage, hosted by MontanaPBS' John Twiggs, will include an interview with Republican Majority Leader, Sue Vinton, and analysis by University of Montana Journalism Professor and Political Analyst, Lee Banville.

Viewers can watch on-air or online via:

- MontanaPBS' Statewide Broadcast Channel
- Montanapbs.org/live (available to viewers within the state)
- Montanapbs.org/stateofstate (available to all audiences)
- Facebook.com/montanapbs (available to all audiences)

The State of the State Address will also simulcast live on Montana Public Radio and Yellowstone Public Radio. To view additional information, including the State of the State archive, visit montanapbs.org/stateofstate.

###

CONTACTS

Aaron Pruitt, KUSM Director and General Manager | aaron@montanapbs.org
Ray Ekness, KUFM Director, Broadcast Media Center | ray.ekness@mso.umt.edu
John Twiggs, Producer | john.twiggs@mso.umt.edu
Laura Dick, Digital Content & Marketing Manager | laura@montanapbs.org