ON THE COVER
THE AMERICAN BUFFALO
A FIlm By KEN BURNS
Premieres Monday, October 16

This new two-part, four-hour PBS documentary tells the compelling and heartbreaking story of America's National Mammal. Hunted to near extinction, it's a story about the Indigenous peoples who depended on the bison. It's also a story of hope, and the diverse set of people — each with their own motives and imperfections — trying to bring the bison herds back.

Story on Page 30

Here at SOPBS we are excited about our Fall 2023 primetime schedule and want to share just a few of the September and October highlights! *Note: Primetime schedules are subject to change. These represent our schedule at the time of publication.

SEPTEMBER

1) The second season of AMERICA OUTDOORS WITH BARATUNDE THURSTON premières. Thurston returns to explore the country’s diverse landscapes to see how they shape the way we interact with the outdoors. He will visit Oregon, Maine, Florida, Arkansas, New Mexico, and Utah.
Wed, 9/6/23 8PM (1st of 6)

2) AMERICAN MASTERS features BELLA! THIS WOMAN’S PLACE IS IN THE HOUSE. In 1970 Bella Abzug challenged the status quo, running a successful campaign that elevated her to the halls of Congress. Abzug entered Congress swinging, battling for credit cards for women, equality for the LGBTQ community, and a path for leadership that reflected the diversity of the country.
Friday, 9/8/23 9PM

3) ALL ACROSS OREGON: NEW SEASON! Vinny continues his exploration of the “best kept secrets” around the state and offers insights of fabulous places for touring, wining, dining and just having fun.
Thurs, 9/21/23 8:30PM

OCTOBER

4) NOVA premières ANCIENT EARTH. This five-part series combines clear and concise contributions from leading scientists with the latest advances in CGI animation to create dazzlingly realistic scenes of momentous episodes in Earth's four-billion-year history.
Wed, 10/4/23 9PM

5) THE AMERICAN BUFFALO premières. Directed and produced by Ken Burns, this documentary is the biography of the most magnificent species at the center of many of our nation's most thrilling, mythic, and sometimes heartbreaking tales. Filled with a diverse cast of fascinating characters, it encompasses two historically significant lessons that resonate today.
(Part 1) Monday, 10/16/23 8PM

6) NATURE premières its new season with PLATYPUS GUARDIAN. The story is of Tasmanian Peter Walsh, who becomes obsessed with one of nature's least understood creatures, the platypus. On a mission to observe and understand the animals and save them from urban development, he befriends one particular female, who lets him into her secretive world and a relationship develops as he reveals the life of this enigmatic creature.
Wed, 10/18/23 8PM

7) AMERICAN EXPERIENCE premières THE WAR ON DISCO. In the 1970s, disco's rise to the top of the music charts signaled a cultural shift that some found threatening. The film explores the cultural movement that gave rise to disco music, and the backlash that tried to destroy it.
Mon, 10/30/23 9PM

(10/08-2:30am; 10/08-6:30pm)
Today, Earth is enveloped by a thin veil of gas, a narrow band of atmosphere that protects a world covered in lush green vegetation, deep blue oceans, and abundant life. But 4.5 billion years ago, Earth was a very different place: a hellscape of molten lava and barren rock, under relentless bombardment from meteors, and with no atmosphere whatsoever. So how did our familiar blue sky come to be?

Breathtakingly realistic animations and a chorus of science experts reveal how the primordial inferno first gave rise to an orange-hued cauldron of toxic gasses that would be deadly to us today. Witness how the first drops of rain splashed down on the searing planet, setting the stage for the evolution of life. And discover how life itself helped create the air we all breathe.

UNFORGOTTEN, SEASON 5

In Six Parts

Premiering Sunday, September 3 at 9pm

This award-winning cold case crime drama follows veteran London detectives who uncover the truth behind tangled, complicated murders from the past. The deeper the truth lies, the bigger the emotional toll for the suspects, the families left behind, and for the detective inspectors themselves.

DCI Jessica “Jess” James joins DI Sunny Khan to investigate the discovery of human remains in a newly renovated antique home in West London. The ghost of much-loved former colleague Cassie Stuart looms large over the team and Jess knows there will be big shoes for her to fill. Sunny’s grief puts a strain on his relationship with fiancée Sal.

Episode 1: Sunday, September 3

Jess’s first day in her new job is marred by an unforeseen and devastating event involving her family life. Her first case looks like a murder dating back to the 1930s, but could the body have been disposed of in more recent times? There are baffling questions that need answering and Jess will need to be at the top of her game.

Episode 2: Sunday, September 10

The team work to identify the body found in the chimney flue, as forensics reveal the cause of death.

Episode 3: Sunday, September 17

The victim’s turbulent past comes to light. While Sunny takes a trip to Paris and Jess drops in on an unsuspecting potential suspect, the pair continue to butt heads.

Episode 4: Sunday, September 24

Sunny and Jess’ personal lives go from bad to worse while they struggle to keep focused. Meanwhile, the suspect list grows and a mother and son are put under the microscope.

Episode 5: Sunday, October 1

Sunny and Jess attempt a reset as they follow the clues in the case.

Episode 6: Sunday, October 8

Can Sunny, Jess and the team bring the clues in the case together and unravel the secrets to solve it?

In Six Parts

Premiering Wednesday, September 6 at 8pm

AMERICA OUTDOORS with Baratunde Thurston

SEASON 2

Wednesday, September 6 – Suwannee: Wild River
The Suwannee is one of the last wild rivers in America, and its watershed creates woods and wetlands, marshes, and cave systems. From its headwaters in the Okefenokee Swamp, Baratunde journeys downstream, meeting colorful denizens of the Suwannee.

Wednesday, September 13 – Arkansas: Hidden Gems
Just about everyone you meet here is into the outdoors, yet to many outside the state it barely registers as an outdoor destination. Now, it’s on a mission to earn recognition as a wild mecca.

Wednesday, September 20 – New Mexico: Timeless
From turkey hunting to river rafting on the Rio Grande and ancient pueblos built in alignment with the stars, Baratunde explores how the area’s deep history still shapes the outdoor culture, even as people there are reimagining their outdoor lives.

Wednesday, September 27 – Oregon
Oregon is known for its wild coastline and misty forests, but it’s a place where a few hours in your car can take you from the coast to the high desert or the Cascade mountains. Embracing this incredible variety, Baratunde embraces forest bathing, goes spearfishing to discover underwater kelp forests, rides along with cowboys on the cutting edge of sustainable ranching and rollerblades through Portland.

Wednesday, October 4 – Utah
From the nomadic Diné tribes who have been here since time immemorial to the Mormons who made their religious pilgrimage in 1847, the expansive beauty of Utah has been a magnet for centuries. So what draws modern pilgrims? And how are they shaping outdoor culture?

Wednesday October 11 – Maine: Embrace the Cold
Baratunde meets a Mainer reviving the timeless craft of harvesting ice, straps on snowshoes to understand how being outside can help folks recovering from addiction and takes an icy plunge in the winter ocean to embrace the cold.

Travel to the far corners of the world, and discover the extraordinary ways animals are adapting to our rapidly changing planet. The series is an examination of adaptation stories that illustrate the rapid pace of change happening across Earth, while providing a look at nature’s ability to thrive.

Sept 6: EARTH
At Earth’s extremes, animals are reacting in surprising ways. Animal homes are changing around them at superspeed. Follow remarkable stories of resilience and hope.

Sept 13: ISLANDS
Islands are like miniature simplified Earths, where evolution is playing out right before our eyes. Journey from the Galapagos to the edge of Antarctica to seek out animals responding to our changing planet in extraordinary ways.

Sept. 20: HEAT
Travel to the hottest and driest extremes to see animals go to extraordinary lengths to survive. From the Sahara Desert to Australia, animals provide new clues about our changing planet and what it will mean for the future of our warming world.

Sept 27: ICE
At the planet’s frozen extremes, shifts in animal movement and behavior reveal vital information about our future world. Examine polar bears in the Arctic, penguins in Antarctica and other animals wandering on icy islands.

Oct 4: GRASSLANDS
Grasslands are one of the planet’s most important, yet most overlooked habitats. Follow scientists as they discover animal species with the power to transform and restore our grasslands, turning them into carbon sinks that could slow climate change.

In Six Parts
Premiering Sunday October 15 at 9pm

October 1940. Lone pilots are sent to destroy German bombers prowling the skies above Manchester as the Blitz begins. The true reality of war has arrived in Britain. Season 2 is rich with characters who show the emotional reality of World War II, and how it affected individuals. The show takes viewers from the streets of Britain into occupied France, Nazi Germany, and to the sands of the North African desert, where British troops struggle alongside Indian Sappers and Australian Diggers to adapt to a very different kind of combat.

Episode 1: Sunday, October 15
The war reaches the sands of the Egyptian desert while bombs fall on Manchester, and Harry introduces an explosive force into Robina’s household.

Episode 2: Sunday, October 22
Harry struggles to adapt to the realities of desert combat and Lois longs to leave home. In Paris, Henriette is in grave danger, and in Manchester, a mysterious stranger arrives at Robina’s door.

Episode 3: Sunday, October 29
As Stan and Rajib make a hasty retreat across the desert, Marga reasserts her commitment to the Fuhrer. Meanwhile, David is in peril in the skies over France.

Episode 4: Sunday, November 5
Kasia takes on her first assignment as an agent, and Rajib’s military values are tested as he is torn between duty and ideals. Meanwhile, a familiar face comes to David’s aid.

Episode 5: Sunday, November 12
Tragedy strikes at the heart of Harry’s unit as the siege drags on in Tobruk. In Manchester, Kasia is confronted by the horror of war. In France, romance blossoms.

Episode 6: Sunday, November 19
Harry returns to Manchester, but Kasia is determined to leave. In Europe, Marga and Henriette must each make their escape, while North Africa remains brutal for Rajib.

7:00  7:30  8:00  8:30  9:00  9:30
Season 2 is a groundbreaking portrait of contemporary Indian Country. This Native-directed series celebrates the beauty and power of today’s Indigenous world. Smashing stereotypes, it follows the brilliant engineers, bold politicians, and cutting-edge artists who draw upon Native tradition to build a better 21st century.

Episode 1: “New Worlds” – Tuesday, October 24
Native innovators, including NASA engineer Aaron Yazzie (Navajo), sustainable builder Henry Red Cloud (Lakota), and First Nations electronic music group The Halluci Nation are leading a revolution in space exploration, architecture, and music. Their work is impacting lives across the globe — and even in outer space.

Episode 2: “Warrior Spirit” – Tuesday, October 31
This tradition of reaching within oneself to serve has deep roots in Native American communities. It is told in the proud history of horsemen on the plains fighting to protect their homelands and the Navajo Code Talkers, who transmitted secret messages in World War II. It lives on across Native America today.

Episode 3: “Women Rule” – Tuesday, November 7
From the corridors of power to the fashion runway, from superheroes in comic books to real-life champions protecting the planet, Native women are continuing their traditional roles as leaders to make a better future. “Women Rule” explores how they are building on deep traditions to improve their communities, their lands, and the world.

Episode 4: “Language Is Life” – Tuesday, November 14
From Hollywood films on the big screen to sacred writing deep within the Earth, from long-lost voices captured in wax cylinders, Native people are fighting to keep their languages and ways of life alive. Though many of the approximately 170 Native languages spoken across the United States remain at risk today, it is a time of hope.

THE AMERICAN BUFFALO
A FILM BY KEN BURNS

OCTOBER 16 & 17 at 8pm

The two-part, four-hour film traces the near demise – and ultimate return – of the U.S. National Mammal, while examining the species’ connection to indigenous communities and the land.

The American Buffalo is the biography of an improbable, shaggy beast that has found itself at the center of many of the country’s most mythic and heartbreaking tales. The series, which has been in production for four years, will take viewers on a journey through more than 10,000 years of North American history and across some of the continent’s most iconic landscapes, tracing the mammal’s evolution, its significance to the Great Plains and, most importantly, its relationship to the Indigenous People of North America.

“It is a quintessentially American story,” Ken Burns said, “filled with unforgettable stories and people. But it is also a morality tale encompassing two historically significant lessons that resonate today: how humans can damage the natural world and also how we can work together to make choices to preserve the environment around us. The story of the American buffalo is also the story of Native nations who lived with and relied on the buffalo to survive, developing a sacred relationship that evolved over more than 10,000 years, but which was almost completely severed in fewer than 100 years.”

For thousands of generations, buffalo have evolved alongside Indigenous people who relied on them for food and shelter, and, in exchange for killing them, revered the animal. The stories of Native people anchor the series, including the Kiowa, Comanche and Cheyenne of the Southern Plains; the Pawnee of the Central Plains; the Salish, Kootenai, Lakota, Mandan-Hidatsa, Aaniiih, Crow, Northern Cheyenne and Blackfeet from the Northern Plains; and others.

“The story of American bison,” historian Rosalyn LaPier says in the film, “really is two different stories. It’s a story of Indigenous people and their relationship with the bison for thousands of years. And then, enter not just the Europeans, but the Americans… that’s a completely different story. That really is a story of utter destruction.”

The film documents the startling swiftness of the species’ near extinction in the late 19th century. Numbering an estimated 30 million in the early 1800s, the herds began declining for a variety of reasons, including the lucrative buffalo robe trade, the steady westward settlement of an expanding United States, diseases introduced by domestic cattle, and drought.

But the arrival of the railroads in the early 1870s and a new demand for buffalo hides to be used in the belts driving industrial machines back East brought thousands of hide hunters to the Great Plains. In just over a decade the number of bison collapsed from 12-15 million to fewer than a thousand, representing one of the most dramatic examples of our ability to destroy the natural world. By 1900, the American buffalo teetered on the brink of disappearing forever, and the Native people of the Plains entered one of the most traumatic moments of their existence.

But the other, lesser-known part of this story, told in the film’s second episode, is about the people who set out to save the species from extermination and how they did it. Their actions provide compelling proof that we are equally capable of pulling back from the brink of environmental catastrophe if we set our minds to it.

Both parts of the larger narrative are filled with unforgettable stories and people, including Old Lady Horse, a Kiowa woman who describes her tribe’s spiritual and practical relationship with the bison, and Charles Jesse “Buffalo” Jones, a mercenary hunter who took part in the elimination of 3 million buffalo, then turned to rescuing motherless calves and starting a small herd that would eventually provide seed stock for others.

The eloquent words of Pretty-Shield, a Crow medicine woman, describe the utter devastation felt by all the tribes at the destruction of the great herds, while crusading conservationist George Bird Grinnell’s editorials explore how central Yellowstone National Park’s small herd became to the survival of the species.

The buffalo were brought back from the brink of extinction by a diverse and unlikely collection of Americans, such as Native American families on reservations in South Dakota and Montana, the legendary cattleman Charles Goodnight and his wife Molly in the Texas Panhandle, and Austin Corbin, the Long Island railroad magnate who owned an exotic game preserve in New Hampshire.

There was also Ernest Harold Baynes, an eccentric nature writer, who trained a pair of young bison bulls to pull a wagon and took them on tour to help launch a national movement to save the species.

Other, more famous champions of the movement included the Bronx Zoo’s William T. Hornaday; William “Buffalo Bill” Cody; and Theodore Roosevelt, who hurried west as an impulsive young man to shoot a bison before they were all gone, and then, as president of the United States, created the first federal bison reserves in the West. The film also introduces Quanah Parker, the Comanche leader who went from waging war against the U.S. Army and the hide hunters to a man of peace, who lived to see the buffalo return to his homeland.

Today, there are approximately 350,000 buffalo in the U.S., most of them descendants of 77 animals from five founding herds at the start of the 20th century, and their numbers are increasing. The film concludes with a brief look at some of the ongoing restoration efforts and the central role the Tribal Nations have had in their return.
CREATE MARATHONS run Friday 6-11pm, Saturday 7am-12pm, Sunday 9am – 2pm, and weekdays 6-7pm & 11pm-12am.
