- Welcome and Introductions
- Update on Citizen Active, rethinking the scope of it based on capacity.
- Matt Ryan provided an update on New York NOW including an overview of some recent shows as well as stories that will be covered next month including a look at a new approach to congressional town halls, abandoned cemeteries, and other statewide stories.
 - Noted that WMHT will be exploring New York NOW strategy and how it can be strengthened.
- Discussion of potential storytelling project that will have a multi-platform approach. One of the storytelling projects would feature stories from Educators and the other would focus on Healthcare. If the model is successful it could be applied to other topics.
 - Noted that one focus on healthcare could revolve around seniors and aging.
