Do you provide chairs for people while they wait?
There are a limited number of chairs at the event. You may sit on them, but they cannot be moved. If you or your guest has difficulty standing for long periods of time, please bring a small, lightweight and portable chair.

Can photos be used to appraise large items?
Yes. Our experts can often appraise very large pieces and furniture from good photographs. You will need several clear, in-focus photos, at least one indicating the size or scale of the item, an overall view, as well as close-ups of detail work, signatures, damaged areas, etc.

What type of appraisal will I receive?
The appraisals you will receive at the Antiques & Fine Arts Appraisal Day are verbal appraisals only and are estimates of the current market value of your items. These appraisals will not take the place of a certified appraisal for insurance or other purposes.

May I bring a camera or tape recorder to the event?
You can use cameras or tape recorders in designated areas. However, photography, videotaping or recording is strictly prohibited in the appraisal area.
