LEGENDARY DINNER OCT 14
WALKABOUT TASTING OCT 21

A Service of Pensacola State College
Tutti a tavola a mangiare!
“Everyone to the table to eat!” – Lidia Bastianich

The legendary PBS chef Lidia Bastianich says that good food brings everybody to the table. We thank you for coming to the table in support of our local PBS station, WSRE!

WSRE is a gem to be treasured by all of us who understand and appreciate that the station is an essential educational and cultural resource within our community.

For more than three decades, the Wine & Food Classic has served as WSRE’s signature fundraiser. Your support of this event is vital to the station’s ability to purchase the shows we enjoy, to produce local shows, to deliver early learning programs and activities that help prepare our children for kindergarten and to provide free classroom resources for our teachers in local schools.

We are flattered to have been asked to serve as Honorary Chairs for this 33rd WSRE Wine & Food Classic, and we salute the participating chefs and sponsors listed here.

Have a wonderful time and enjoy the superb cuisine prepared for this very special event!

Meet “The Great American Recipe” Final Three!

The winner and finalists of “The Great American Recipe” are our special guests in the kitchen for A Legendary Dinner!

Brad Mahlof, Season 2 Winner

Brad Mahlof (New York, New York) developed a cooking style that honors both his Sephardic and Ashkenazi Jewish roots. Brad is passionate about representing his heritage through food to help preserve and honor the rich and beautiful history of these Jewish communities. His cooking style emphasizes the importance of sourcing quality, seasonal, and local ingredients.

Leanna Pierre

Leanna Pierre (Norcross, Georgia) is a wife, mother, attorney, food blogger and world traveler who loves to cook for her husband and son. A first-generation American, she is proud to be the daughter of Caribbean-born and raised parents. Leanna’s specialty is traditional Caribbean cuisine with a twist of “Southern Comfort” from living in Atlanta for the past 15 years.

Salmah Hack

Salmah Hack (Orlando, Florida) inherited her family’s culture through food. She was born and raised in Richmond Hill, New York, a Queens neighborhood known as Little Guyana. A former British colony built on indentured servitude, Guyana and its cuisine reflect the influences of African, Indian, British, Portuguese, Chinese, Amerindian, and Dutch cultures.
